

RECREATION RESOURCE MANAGEMENT of AMERICA

DEDICATED TO MANAGING AND PROTECTING RECREATIONAL & NATURAL AREAS FOR FUTURE GENERATIONS

Dear Applicant:

Thank you for your interest in Recreation Resource Management of America, Inc. (RRM of America) and our employment opportunities. Below is a brief outline of information and basic positions available within our company.

INFORMATION

RRM of America is a private company that works under contract with the United States Forest Service, Arizona State Parks and County Park agencies. RRM of America provides management and maintenance services in these various recreational areas. This includes providing management and maintenance services in campgrounds, day use areas, visitor centers, lake access areas and trailheads. Additionally, we operate camper supply stores and rent boats. The majority of the projects we manage are open seasonally, generally May to October and range in location from Arizona to Colorado.

EMPLOYMENT OPPORTUNITIES

The majority of personnel within our company serve as Campground Hosts. Other positions include Management Staff, Maintenance Staff and Summer Wood Yard Workers. Currently, we have employment opportunities in Arizona and Colorado. We take applications year-round and work with applicants in providing the best location and position within our company. Further information is outlined below:

- Campground Hosts - Our Camp Host program is designed to employ people who enjoy outdoor recreation, meeting new people and assisting in operating recreational sites with employment to fulfill that goal. Hosts are usually individuals with skills and/or interests who will assist in performing a variety of functions. They will work under direct supervision of RRM of America Management team and will be used within their capabilities to perform specific types of duties. These positions, although operating under a manager, function independently. Hosts must possess good communications skills, good manners and a helpful attitude. Hosts may be required to maintain administrative records, receipts, use data, revenues, forms, maps, brochures, etc. as they relate to the campground. In addition, hosts must be able to perform routine maintenance that include manual labor consisting of day-to-day maintenance and cleaning of campsites and toilet facilities. These routine tasks include: servicing restrooms, cleaning tables, fire rings and campsites, lawn mowing, weed-eating, leaf blowing, minor repair such as replacing signs, posts, painting tables, etc.
- Maintenance Technicians - The primary objective of a Maintenance Technician is to promote care of campgrounds and other use areas by cleaning and performing maintenance to grounds, facilities and equipment. Maintenance personnel must possess basic skills in maintenance and repair abilities. They are responsible for day-to-day heavy maintenance of a recreation complex. Responsibilities include, but may not be limited to, cleaning and servicing toilets, cleaning campsites, repairing and maintaining facilities, performing litter patrol and hauling garbage within assigned areas, raking, weed-eating, leaf blowing, etc. Sometimes, specialty maintenance is required. This may be plumbing, carpentry, etc., type skills. Periodically there are needs for personnel with experience in operating well systems and sewage treatment plant systems.
- Summer Hires/Wood Yard - The summer hire positions require workers to split and bag firewood for use in the campgrounds. This position may require the use of wood splitting machine, moving of 50 pounds or more on a daily basis and other general clean up duties. This position can be contingent on Forest Service restrictions due to weather or fire conditions.
- Other Opportunities - Other opportunities include Management positions. This would include the management of a recreation complex, including personnel management, financial responsibility, purchasing, etc.
- Compensation & Amenities - Traditionally USFS Campground Hosts were volunteers in exchange for services and duties. RRM of America will provide a campsite, utility hook-ups (where available), provide compensation and worker's compensation insurance. Compensation will be provided and varies depending on responsibilities, use and/or size of recreation facility, hours required, etc. Employees will be provided with training, uniform apparel, nametags and all necessary equipment and supplies.
